LINCOLN MEMORIAL AT THE CHURCHES

Sunday evening a unique and effective service was held at the M. E. Church in commemoration of Abraham Lincoln. Through the efforts of Z. T. Spencer, a most enjoyable program was arranged and was appreciated by all those in attendance. Following was the program in full:

Musical by a select choir.
Scripture lesson and Prayer.
Singing, "Higher Ground."
Reading by Mrs. Waltz, "Lincoln's Great Work."

Reading by Miss Portia Harrison, "Carrying on the Work Lincoln Began."

Reading by Mr. Cameron, "Some of the Results."

Reading by Mrs. Waltz, "De Sun am Bound to Shine" poetry.

Singing, "America."

Reading by Prof. Rowell, "The Death of Dr. Lovingood."

A talk from Z. T. Spencer on work among the ex-slaves and their children beginning with the close of the civil war and showing the advancing steps of the colored people of our southern states up to the present time. The talk was interspersed with Negro melodies and plantation hymns such as "Steal Away Home to Jesus," "Swing Low Sweet Chariot," "We'll Walk in the Light" and were sung by Mr. and Mrs. Spencer and Mr. and Mrs. Singleton, accompanied by Misses Hulise and Singleton on violin and Mrs. Singleton on guitar.

The service closed with a selection sung and played by the Singletons which was heartily applauded.

THE HIGH WAY OF LINCOLN WAS THERE

The service at the Congregational Church last Sunday morning was dedicated to Abraham Lincoln and was conducted by Rev. Mr. Pfeiffer in a masterly manner. He pointed out the real Christianity which showed out in the traits of Lincoln and said there was a revelation of Divinity throughout the life of the patriot. "As a man thinketh in his heart so is he" was the biblical text upon which the learned divine built his splendid eulogy of America's great man. He declared Lincoln to have been a deeply religious man though not a church member and recited incidents in his life and in the history of the great crisis of the Civil War illustrative of this side of his character.

The highway of Lincoln—his high-way and the high plane upon which his course of life was followed was beautifully illustrated. The figurative highway of life along which the greatest of Americans traveled was marked by duty, mercy, patience, determination, clear vision. When in doubt said the speaker Lincoln ever leaned on the side of mercy. He recalled the gaunt anxious lined visage of the great figure in American history—his face seamed with wrinkles of care, in his heart deep chasms of sorrow but like the rugged ship which had been to the south pole and back, a more commanding and interesting figure than all the unsullied yachts in the harbor beside it. What may look to be a stain, reminded the divine, may be but a scar—the great marks of experience on the sea of life.

The sermon was replete with historical episodes and the important

SONOMA POULTRYMEN HEAR ROMWELL.

Head of C. C. P. Association Addresses Local Producers Last Saturday. Shipments Under New Plan Start.

At the city hall last Saturday night, Chas. Romwell president of the new marketing organization of poultrymen addressed the 75 per cent of local producers who are members of the association. He explained the working plan of the marketing idea in full and told exactly upon what basis the poultry people could expect to do business. They are to ship every Monday and Thursday, all cases to be furnished by the association and the following week will receive the average market price of the week previous. The quotations are to be added during the six days of shipment and the average computed therefrom. Every producer has his name and place of shipment on the box thus standardizing the product. Shipments to the Association clearing house began here Monday when 100 cases were loaded aboard the car. On Thursday 115 cases were shipped. The eggs are but one night on the road and Sonoma will be the central shipping point although members can send their eggs from the other stations in the valley if they desire. 23 1/2 cents will be the minimum price. Chas. Whitmore is in charge of the shipments.

Mrs. Yenni has retired from the ice cream business and sold out the fittings of the former Mission ice cream parlors.

Events in Lincoln's career were beautifully wrought into the splendid didactic discourse.

Patriotic hymns were sung by the congregation and Miss Alta Rice's organ prelude included some of the familiar American airs. Lincoln's picture draped about by Old Glory was conspicuous in the pulpit and there was an appreciative crowd of all denominations at this most appropriate and pleasing service.

Mr. Pfeiffer voices much of the higher religious thought in his sermons and frequently alludes to the perfect day when all churches will be one with more of Christ and less of creed. He is an able man and the community is fortunate in having the benefit of his sound philosophy and rich gift of speech.

MASKERS MAKE MERRY TONIGHT.

Native Sons Arrange for Biggest Social Success of Season. Benefit for Homeless Children.

Union Hall will be the scene of a grand masquerade ball tonight to be given by the local Parlor of Native Sons and as the edict has gone forth that all dancers must be in costume and masked, the floor is expected to be crowded with many comic, unique and pretty costumes. The cash prizes of $5.00 each which will go to the most effective masqueraders will be a drawing card while two funny consolation prizes will cheer the less fortunate contenders.

The national colors and the emblematic Bear Flag will make an effective decorative background for the six piece orchestra which has been rehearsing all week and promise some of the very latest musical successes.

Crowds will be here from both Napa and Santa Rosa and unmasking will be permitted about 11.30, just prior to the award of the prizes by a competent committee chosen from those in attendance.

It will be a fine dance and refreshments by the Native Daughters is a guarantee of delicious "eats."

BASAGLIA COMPLETES MODEL STRUCTURE

Peter Basaglia, the cement contractor has just completed one of the highest class cow barns in the valley on the stock farm of Grace Brothers southwest of town. It is a concrete structure modeled after the Panama Pacific Exposition idea of housing stock and as a matter of fact some of the original Carnation cows bought by Grace after the Exposition will make it their home and will feel at home in it for it is after the same plan as the barn at the Fair. Mr. Basaglia has had eight men employed to assist him in the construction work. The building is 42x130 and has a capacity of 60 cows besides additional space for feed rooms, bull pens etc.

It is a fine piece of work and a credit to the contractor.

R. E. Perkins of the Sonoma Valley Bank was a city visitor Monday.

WILL CONTEST PAPER SERVED

Mrs. Hall Has Ten Days to Answer In Contest Over Estate of Pioneer Orchardist.

The will of the late Robt. Hall the pioneer orchardist was filed this week in Santa Rosa by his executors Messrs. Hill and Poppe of this place. The estate is estimated at $1500 and consists of personal property belonging to the deceased such as live stock, farm implements, crates and orchard equipment. All of the valuable realty was bequeathed to his widow, Mrs. T. D. Hall some years before Mr. Hall's death.

The filing of the will followed immediately upon the widow's return from the East and the serving on her of papers alleging undue influence, the allegations to be the basis of a contest by an Eastern niece and nephew of the deceased. The allegations are said to be startling in the extreme and come as a distinct surprise to the many friends and neighbors who know of the long years of devotion during which Mrs. Hall attended her invalid husband.

The transfer of the valuable ranch with its acres of full bearing orchard and handsome residence was made by Mr. Hall to his wife in the presence of Robert Poppe and Robert P. Hill. Mr. Hall had the greatest confidence in the ability of his wife to whom he handed down a most complicated system of bookkeeping which she mastered and during his life time and up to the present time has applied in the management of the big orchard property. Her stewardship was commended by Mr. Hall and in token of his appreciation and esteem he gave the property outright to her.

The contesting heirs are Jennie and George Strout, the son and daughter of a deceased sister who raised Mr. Hall when he was a boy but whom he scarcely saw afterwards. The niece and nephew however came here from Boston to visit after the second marriage of their uncle and thereafter at Mrs. Hall's suggestion he remembered them at Christmas and on such occasions although he had never done so before.

Immediately after Mr. Hall died, the attorney for his Eastern relatives came to Sonoma and made inquiries concerning the condition in which the wealthy orchardist had left his affairs and nothing more was heard of them until last month when they filed the contest at Santa Rosa declaring that Mr. Hall was not in his right mind and a victim of undue influence in the disposition of his property.

Mrs. Hall was in Nebraska and little dreamed of the innuendoes and allegations contained in the petition filed, until served with the papers last Saturday. She has retained the best legal talent and will file an answer which will be a general denial of the complaint.

GLEN ELLEN CLUBDOM

The Club met last Friday for its business meeting. Many members were present. The fund of $725 was voted to build a memorial to the late Jack London in the form of a Club House with a Library attached or a Library and Reading Room. This will come before the Club for further discussion later.

Mrs. George O'Donnell very generously offered a lot for the building in the Brick Yard tract, which she bought from Chauvet. She gave the Club the permission to choose any lot in that tract 50 feet front by 150 deep. The president appointed Mrs. Laura Cowan, Mrs. Ranker and Mrs. Gordenker as a committee to pick the lot and report to the Club at the next meeting. Dr. and Mrs. O'Donnell should be highly commended for their generosity in helping to build a memorial to our beloved Jack. The lot is on the road, that goes to his ranch and situated on a little knoll above Glen Ellen a very short distance from the stores.

The Club hopes every one will help in the building and will spare no efforts to have the building be a credit to the memory of our departed friend, as well as to Glen Ellen.

The next meeting will be a social meeting and Mrs. Stewart will favor the Club with her singing. The refreshments will be in charge of Mrs. A. Cowan and Mrs. Costa.

CLUB REPORTER

Mrs. Nellie Gordenker Tietjen writes from New York that her husband has undergone a very serious operation and is not yet out of danger. His folks are in Florida where they spend their winters. Young Tietjen is in one of the most celebrated hospitals on the Atlantic coast.

SALOON MIX UP ENDS IN ARREST

Jabez P. Griffith Charged With Petty Larceny After a Sleep Fest.

One easy barkeep
Lay down to sleep
Sent for another

But he got in deep;
Two snoring barkeeps
Needed a third,
That's how this story
Really occurred.

So much for the prologue of the petty larceny case which has been hanging over the head this week of Jabez Patrick Griffith who was on third base or rather watch at a local saloon when a watch and 65 cents were discovered missing after a melee in which John Barleycorn and Morpheus played leading parts. As a result Jabez, the unoffending Jabez with the far away look and the close range thirst, got in wrong and was arrested for petty larceny. Warm hearted friends furnished bail so Jabez has not been languishing in the caboose but has been disporting himself like unto a hero or rather like a martyred satyr.

It may not be generally known but Sonoma has a saloon whose license is in the name of a woman. It is not very like the Polka saloon of the Girl of the Golden West but it was famous for a little while last week when John Barleycorn framed up a deal for Morpheus, the god of sleep to take unto his arms all who ventured into the swinging doors of the former Roberts saloon. Morpheus made good and put to sleep the regular bartender, Miller, then Jabez Patrick Griffen and almost got Louis Rouquie and Tom Butler. Just as things were getting most interesting, the owner of the place drove up and in slang parlance the sleepy quartette got the hook. In attempting to hang the responsibility of a muddled up cash register upon some one, Jabez claims he was made the goat. His arrest followed. A cheap watch which it is claimed Jabez stole was taken to S. F. by Mrs. Bond the owner of the saloon and as the evidence has not been forthcoming the case was postponed when it came up for hearing before Judge Small Thursday. Jabez Patrick has retained the skilled services of R. A. McDonnell who will make an eloquent plea in behalf of his client at the hearing.

REPORT ON CHAMBER COMMERCE BANQUET

The Chamber of Commerce banquet was a great credit to Santa Rosa. I should say about 242 were present and the arrangements were splendid. The spirit of cooperation and loyalty permeated the gathering and the speeches were inspiring from start to finish.

The program consisted also of orchestral music and songs. The young lady entertainers were par excellence. "How Are You Hawaii" was a particularly catchy number also a little ditty about, "Put on your hood and come with me" etc.

James Madison of Raisin fame spoke concerning cooperation which he said began even in the Garden of Eden. He told how the Association of raisin men loans money to its members at 3 per cent when they formerly had to pay 7 at the banks.

Minor Chipman the Boston efficiency expert was the hottest wire rubbed against in years. He talked so fast and earnestly that my pencil got a stroke of paralysis and quit. He said California was getting there but that he had seen spineless cactus and spineless men in our Golden State.

All in all the banquet was a huge success. About 100 ladies were present. It was an honor to have participated.

Z. T. SPENCER,
Sonoma Develop. Board.

The 2nd installment of city taxes is due and payable on or before the 1st Monday in February and will be delinquent. Five per cent will be added to the amount thereof and that liens will be attached after the 1st Monday in March 1917.

James H. Albertson, Tax Collector

Mrs. Bond is an elderly woman of prepossessing appearance and recently went before the City Trustees and had the license of the saloon transferred from the former owners, Roberts and Bosworth to her when she explained to protect her financial interest in the business. She is a resident of San Francisco.

It was first reported that the amount of money Jabez was alleged to have gotten away with was $65. But there was a financial leak and the amount finally dwindled down to 65 cents, hence the petty larceny charge.

Every Custom Has Its Day

What tender memories valentines recall and still we lug them in as a motif for various entertainment and as excuses for either short and sweet messages or terse and tart ones, for the day of the valentine is really past though we do have a valentine's day more religiously than apple or orange or prune day. Yet this is not the age of the valentine spirit, that sea foam romanticism, that era of poetry, harmonies not with modern life. For this is not the day of delicacy, rather it is the day of the delicatessen, of "eats" if you prefer. The lass we love to think of "with the delicate air" and the bird like appetite has become a memory while her athletic successor has a wondrous capacity for everything from doughnuts to "hot dogs." Can you associate a lacy paper valentine with the girl who dotes on spaghetti and raves over ravioli? A lace dolly, well perhaps.

The valentine's day passed with the minuet and the gavotte of colonial days. Its star does not wheel its course where dwells the rhythmic fox-trot nor yet does its sticky sentimentality sound good to those who think and speak the George Ade tongue. Nay, why bother with such drivel for milady ponders over the necessities of club culture—tracts on child welfare, suffrage, the minimum wage, George Bernard Shaw, the Rubiyat. Furthermore valentines are not in keeping with modern fashion, motor togs and sport costumes, sweaters and Annette Kellerman recitations. With bonnets and crinolines with fichus and dainties how harmonious!

No the hour glass has given way to the speedometer, the sun dial to the wrist watch, the cavalier to the cabaret. We no longer blaze the trail, we blaze it wherefore the valentine is doomed and with the high cost of paper ascending the valentine is going down to a cherished past, to atrophy among the other relics of romanticism which the modern moth and the flame are destroying for us, whether the moth is of the chorus or the club and the flame the poor suitor or the captain of industry, it matters not, we are all too engrossed with paper money or ruthless reform with meal tickets or dividends to encourage the dainty valentine.

Not A Dumb Animal But "Some" Animal

The day of the horse show and the day of the flower show is dimmed by the effulgence of the motor show which is holding the center of the stage just now in San Francisco. It is said to have been the greatest display ever seen west of the Mississippi and with fifty makes and three times as many types of cars on exhibit, it shows the variety and expanse of an industry destined to still more wonderful development.

The high bred horses of a horse show stir up more sentiment and admiration of the heart quality but the motor enthusiast is none the less enthusiastic over the points of a good car and the wonderful mechanical perfections of the past ten years. The details worked out and the materials employed in assembling the various kind of cars have created a mammoth industry in which the United States has scored over all nations. With all due respect to our noble friend the horse that most lovable and intelligent of dumb animals, the automobile is "some" animal.

"So much has been written relative to the development of the motor car industry and so many prophecies have been ventured without proper consideration of vital and controlling factors, that a clear and simple analysis of the subject may serve to dissipate much of the unfounded conjecture.

The automobile market is divided into broad field. First the rural class, which includes all persons engaged in farming and others in various businesses who live in towns of less than five hundred population. Second, the urban class, which comprises all people in any but farming pursuits, who live in towns of five hundred or more population.

In the rural or farming market, there are 6,500,000 families. One million of these now own motor cars and one and one-half millions are poor illiterate, or negroes, who for the purpose of this study may be excluded from the prospective buying class. There remain, then, 4,000,000 farm families who are possible automobile buyers.

In the urban class, covered by 11,000 towns and cities of more than five hundred population, there are about 5,000,000 home owners of which number only 2,000,000 now own cars. Accordingly there remain 3,000,000 prospective buyers in this class, or a total actual unsold market, in both rural and urban classes, of 7,000,000 possible buyers.

The accepted average life of an automobile is five years in the hands of the original owners; and as the man who once owns a car will not thereafter be without one, we must include the re-order market which in the Calendar year of 1917 will be about 600,000 this being twenty per cent of the 3,000,000 now in use.

For the year 1917, therefore, the automobile business will face a market of about 7,600,000 possible buyers. Not more than 1,600,000 cars will be built in the coming year, leaving a possible excess market of 6,000,000 buyers at the beginning of 1918.

These figures are decidedly conservative because they take no consideration of (1) any export outlet, (2) the people who have or will have two or more town and city families who do not own the homes in which they live, but are well able to buy and maintain a motor car, (3) the business houses retail and wholesale merchants who use thousands of roadsters for salesmen, and many thousands more of delivery cars (regular automobile chassis with commercial body), (7) taxicabs and other cars for public hire.

A show reflective of such a colossal industry with so expansive a future, is bound to be an important event in our large cities and to have magnetic effect on the public particularly in a state so favorable to all the year round motoring and so rich in possibilities as to the rural side of practical motor use.

The flower show with its fragrant blossoms is a pastel pastime beside the shiny, bedecked and gaudily trapped auto show with its pungent suggestion of rubber tires, greases and gas.

MINISTREL SHOW

FOR LIBRARY.

Plans are being perfected for a grand minstrel show and dance for the benefit of the Library on April 14th, the Saturday night after Easter. The show will be given at the Womans Club house and will be staged under the direction of one of the recent directors of the Olympic Club minstrels in San Francisco. Local talent both vocal and dramatic will contribute their efforts to making this one of the hits of the season.

MUSICAL TREAT

SATURDAY NIGHT

Splendid Concert Given by Patri-archs Militant Band and Baldwin

Score Hit Also

It is much to be regretted that Sonoma was not out en masse last Saturday night to hear the Patriarchs Militant Band concert which was decidedly the best musical treat Sonoma has ever had the opportunity of listening to for such splendid aggregations as Petaluma's well trained band seldom go to the smaller cities. Prof. Witzman is a most capable leader and his thirty musicians respond to the magnetism of his baton with true musical temperament. The program was replete with excellent numbers both from the great masters and the more popular composers and despite the very few listeners the encores were generously given. The audience small as it was voiced its appreciation with prolonged applause and there was general expression of a desire to have the band return on a guarantee and give us another concert in the future.

The opening number, "Stars and Stripes Forever" would have done honor to Sousa himself and when the three trombone players arose and gave the final part standing, it was most effective. An overture, the sextette from Lucia, Rossini's "William Tell," gems from Modern Operas like La Gioconda, Love Tales of Hoffman and Delibes Ballets were most delightful, while the serenade for baritone and the grand patriotic finale were also played with the greatest art. Many were reminded of the Exposition band concerts as they listened to the well selected program.

Miss Shadow Baldwin, soloist, proved to be a very well trained young singer. She has a wonderful range and voice of clearness and flexibility. Her numbers were Alice, a waltz song and the Chanson Provencale of Dellaqua, a delightful French number.

Prof. Baldwin, the king of fun is well named and gave a very clever performance. The Professor has had wide experience and is certainly an artist in his line combining much wit and repartee with his dexterity.

The crowd did not justify the dancing which was to have followed and to dance to such a band would have indeed been a privilege as one synopocating encore number testified.

May the Patriarchs Militant Band come again!

MY VALENTINE. (Acrostic)

Written for the Index-Tribune by EDNA POPPE COOPER

Mouth like a Cupid's bow, luringly fair,

Yielding it's sweetness in kisses so rare.

Voice low and tender, the softest I've heard,

All thrilling with love like the song of a bird.

Laughter o'er-spilling to drown all my woes,

Eyes bright as dewdrops that jewell the rose.

Nestled in joy on her bosom of snow

Temptations all shun me, no troubles I know, I've lived but one summer, and just learned to ego.

Now who is my Valentine? Well—tell me, who Embraced and first loved me?

Sweet Mother 'twas you.

The Allegro Club will give a grand ball on March 17th, St. Patrick's day.

One Pound of Rich, Ripe Grapes furnishes cream of tartar sufficient to make the Royal Baking Powder required to raise a dozen tea biscuits.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER

has been used for generations in homes where food of the highest quality is served. It is made from Cream of Tartar—a natural food element—as distinguished from mineral substitutes, such as alum and phosphate, used in cheaper baking powders.

The names of the ingredients printed on the label show whether the baking powder you are now using or any brand, new or old, that may be offered is a genuine cream of tartar powder, or merely a phosphate or alum compound.

NEW $35,000 CHURCH FOR REV. MILLIKEN

Piedmont, February 11.—The corner stone of Piedmont's first and only church was laid this morning shortly before noon by Mrs. William E. Sharon, a member of the Women's Guild. In her address before 150 members of the church who gathered at the ceremony, Mrs. Sharon told the history of the first Sunday school which she organized in 1896 and which has grown into the present church.

The new structure will be of the old Mission architecture of wood and plaster, and will be built at a cost of $35,000 from funds raised by the Women's Guild. Rev. Charles D. Milliken, who recently came to Piedmont from the Hawaiian Islands, will be the pastor. The building will not be completed until August or September. In the meantime services will be held in Mowry Hall, where they have been held for the last twelve years. The site of the new church is directly across from Piedmont Park, upon a hill, and is equipped with tennis courts, a children's playground and other conveniences for the social life of the members.

The corner stone laying ceremony was attended by many prominent society folk of the east bay communities. S. F. BULLETIN.

VALENTINE DINNER DANCING

The dining room was brilliantly decorated with attractive hearts, red lanterns and crepe paper streamers, while dainty place cards of kewpies added a festive touch to the tables.

After an elaborate menu there was dancing, the setting for the dance being most colorful with strings of hearts and lanterns and brilliant lighting effects. Excellent music was furnished.
